

Sultanas

UNIT: 1 x 3kg

Description

Sultana is a specific grape variety, smaller than the standard grapes that are dried to make raisins, and with a yellower skin which doesn't darken as it dries.

Sultanas are produced slightly differently than raisins, being dipped in an oil-based solution which speeds the drying process.

The end result is that Sultanas are generally sweeter and juicier than raisins. Great for recipes and as an addition to breakfast bars
